POLITICAL SCIENCE AND PRE-LAW

The Political Science and Pre-Law program at Arkansas State University offers both a balanced selection of courses and specialization within many areas of discipline. It is designed to prepare students for a wide variety of programs and vocations. Including law, teaching, executive positions in political parties, public relations and business firms, careers in government agencies on the federal, state and local levels, and graduate studies in political science and public administration. Numerous courses are offered in the areas of public administration, comparative politics, political theory, American politics and international politics. The degree offered is the Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Political Science. A minor in Political Science or in any of the sub-fields is also offered.

A student majoring in Political Science or Pre-Law must earn a total of 124 semester credits for the Bachelor of Arts degree. Requirements include Introduction to U.S. Government, plus an additional 39 hours of Political Science; 12 hours of a foreign language; 46-49 hours of General Education requirements; and 26 hours of free electives.
